DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE SWEEPS NEW STATE FROM END TO END

McDonald Elected by 1500 to 2000 Majority and the State Ticket in Doubt Except Clancy, Attorney General, and Ervien, Land Commissioner, Both Being Elected by Large Majorities, and County Democratic Except Pack for School Superintendent.

REED HOLLOWAN AND E. F. SAXON TUCUMCARI MEN, ARE DEFEATED

The battle of ballots in the new state has been decided largely in favor of democracy. McDonald carries the state by 1500 to 2000 majority and the state ticket is claimed for the republicans, but is still in doubt. The legislature is republican by a small margin. Clancy for attorney general and Ervien for land commissioner are well in the lead and there is no doubt of their election. In the county the democrats have won everything but superintendent of schools with reduced majorities over previous elections. The socialist vote was larger than expected and accounts largely for democratic losses. Tucumcari is democratic by an average of about 70 votes. The returns from the county are in with the exception of three small precincts in the southwest portion which will not change results materially. Holloman and Saxon, the republican men, have lost in the district the democratic judge, Leib, Raton, and the republican district attorney, Raton, winning, and that means that the headquarters for the district will go to Raton and Quay county democrats and republicans alike will have the pleasure of making a trip to Cimarron county to attend to court matters and that the money of three counties and our own will none of it in this line fight in Quay. But there is more in the politics of the matter than the business end of it to the people of Quay and more in the money there is in it to their town to Raton than the politics and we take one medicine and pay the price.

The returns from the precincts in the county are unofficially as follows:

HUNTING SEASON AT ITS HEIGHT IN NOVEMBER

Quail Shooting Open in Every State in the Union; Wild Turkey Now Legitimate

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—November marks the height of the hunting season. Touching snow on the ground in the north permits mouse and deer hunting in earnest; upland game hunting to begin in earnest; upland game birds are well grown, and the migration of waterfowl is at its heaviest.

The chief interest centers in the opening of the hunting season for quail, the game in which they are abundant from New York to Nebraska and from Florida to Texas, opens its quail season this month, with the exception of Georgia where the opening is delayed until the first of December. The season is already open in New England, Michigan, and Minnesota, where quail are few, and the western states, whose quail differ from the hawks of the east. Eastern sportsmen may take the field from the first day of this month, except in Delaware, Kentucky, Ohio, Kansas, South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, where shooting begins on the 15th, and in Indiana and Illinois, where begins on the 10th and 11th, respectively.

Mrs. Roy Welch was the fortunate one scoring highest at whist and was awarded a handsome cold meat fork, while Messrs. Wharton and Crawford got the clinch prize which was a gaudy little pair of embroidery scissors. The guest list included Messmes. Parsons, Caly, George, Bechtel, Beeth, Clough, Crawford, Hamilton, Peetson, Wharton, Pearson, Amador, Sheword, H. B. Jones, Prentiss, Sanders, Muirhead, Aber, Littleton, Edler, DuBard, Neiman, Flannigan, Welch, Holloman, Cheeau, Gordon, Gasoh, Goldenberg, Leibenthaler, Reuter, Jarrell, Koch, Blod, Coulson, Cuthill, Donohoe, Vorenberg, Devor, Lawson, Moore, Shelton, Snyder, Campbell, Thompson, Slaughter, Mrs. Barnett, and Miss Richie.

Eight northern states which offer deer hunting, Vermont, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North and South Dakota open seasons in November, varying from five days to a month in length, and in the south deer hunting begins this month in Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas.

October witnessed the opening of the ruffed grouse season in most of the states still affording good shooting, but

TUCUMCARI SCHOOLS TAKE HOLIDAY

MRS. C. D. BEETH HOSTESS TO EMBROIDERY SOCIAL

Teachers Will Attend the State Meeting of the Board of Education at Santa Fe Which Convenes Next Thursday.

TEACHERS AND COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF THE STATE WILL ATTEND

Prof. Bader of the city schools informs the editor that the public schools of the city will have vacation next week and all the teachers and the county superintendent and the school board will attend the meeting of the state board of education which convenes at Santa Fe next Thursday. This is the first time in the history of the association that the state superintendent has asked the attendance of the teachers of the state and the county superintendents to meet with him during a session of the association. Many of the schools are dismissed for the week, and the teachers will attend from every county.

The hunting of black bears is not a general form of sport and in a few states hunting is prohibited for their destruction. Several states, and three of those in which bear hunting is still prominent sport, viz., Michigan, Louisiana and Mississippi, open their bear seasons in November. Duck shooting on the waters of New Jersey also open in November.

November witnesses also the closing of some important seasons. By the end of the month deer hunting is over in the north, except in Maine and New Hampshire. It may be followed by the south for additional periods varying from one month in Louisiana and Texas to three months in Mississippi.

TO THE VETERAN SOLDIERS OF NEW MEXICO

Brother Veterans:

It is an egoism to say that the veterans were the men who in the days of the country's need left home and all its dearest ties behind them and went forth to fight for her honor and preservation. This is true of all the wars upon which America has been engaged; it is also true that she has not been ungrateful, so far as granting pension to her faithful surviving soldiers can show her gratitude.

It is not generally known that although New Mexico was only about thirteen years under the Union flag, when the civil war began, she gave 556 men out of her small and widely scattered population, and when the war was over, the survivors returned to resume their lives of daily toil as quietly as if they had done nothing deserving of any reward.

When the first pension law was enacted, and for many years thereafter, railroads had not penetrated into the territory, and as communication of any kind with the east was very difficult, thousands of these brave men never heard of the passage of such laws, and when they were advised of the existence of such laws, the difficulty of procuring the necessary blanks, filling them up and mailing them to the proper department presented such difficulties that but few of them received their pensions at all.

A meeting of the social committee was called to perfect arrangements for the club's Guest Day which will occur in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Dunn.

The club was glad to have with them for the first time this year, Mrs. A. W. Mease. Miss Burtin gave the history lesson very ably and Mrs. Burtin read a most comprehensive paper on Cortez and Montezuma. The review of Mrs. Wallace's "The Fair God" was given by Mrs. George in a very interesting manner showing that she had put much thought into the difficult task of reviewing so lengthy a volume. The story of the origin of the Mexican national emblem as given by Mrs. Burtin closed the afternoon's program.

There are many novel acts with the Great London Shows which are certain to be well received in every city likely enough to secure a visit from the consolidated enterprises. There are acts which were never seen in America until this show opened its season of 1911, for the reason that there was no amusement enterprise great enough to afford the large salaries which the artists demand, and no institution with sufficient prestige to attract the attention of such celebrated performers.

The Eddy Family of mermaids, for instance, perform feats which have never been seen in other shows.

The great London Circus will exhibit at Tucumcari, November 16.
